

Main job purpose

Unilever Operations (UniOps) is one of our largest entities in Unilever, like supply chain, with a cost base well over a billion Euros.

Responsible for execution of key operations like recruitment, IT, Payroll, purchase to pay, but also centre of excellence in driving new capabilities. For example, information and analytics or support for digital marketing & ECommerce. All the above in strong collaboration with the markets, divisions, and supply chain.

UniOps team will deliver across a number of Strategic Programs, which will enable everyday tasks to be carried out in a more agile and more efficient way. These programmes require significant investment in both Restructuring and CAPEX and enormous benefits are expected in return in terms of cost savings and capability built.

The role is part of the FP&A team, which is the heartbeat of performance management in UniOps. Key to driving performance management and unlocking operational efficiencies within the organization.

This role is aimed at those seeking a challenging global role in finance as it is a combination of collaboration with different teams and stakeholders, reporting and forecasting, analysing, modelling, and presenting.

Key interactions

The role will interface with the following stakeholders:

Key Accountabilities

Continuous Improvement

Leadership Behaviours and Experience required:

Key Technical Skills